Sewing Program Provides Backpacks for Students

Dear {{Informal Name}} ,

Your faithful partnership with CUPS Mission is changing lives every day! As the summer camp season comes to a close, your support is providing over 700 school children with supplies for the upcoming school year. This year, instead of purchasing string bags to distribute school supplies, students in the Sewing for Souls program in Zion, La Union and, Valedor made custom backpacks for the children as well.

Thinking about all of the different things that came together to make this possible is cause for praise. Mission teams who visited this summer donated the school supplies and the fabric for the backpacks, your continued financial support provides for the sewing machines, instructors, electricity and supplies so the girls can learn to sew, and the ongoing Christian discipleship the children receive put the desire in the hearts of the sewing program participants to use their skills to help and provide for their friends and neighbors. God is truly working to rescue children and families in the Dominican Republic.

Just look at this smiling face. She represents the mission to Rescue a Child, Transform a Family and Do it Again Tomorrow!

This transformation is possible because of partners like you - Thank You!
